Dublin Oct. 7. 1853

My dear friend – Your letter to my wife enclosing one to Mr Ellen which should be forwarded by evening came to hand to day. I had already paid Mrs Ireland £25 for her 50 Portrait Instrument and it will give me real pleasure to send her the balance of £18 for same when I can understand what my duty is in the matter, and the best way to act in her behalf. I will buy the £1 to Pacifica books. The hour they is and charge to me. I have been hour that I could a little sold, and have not been successful in my high spirited & able to take huff. not have received the money but that the

I am greatly obliged to Mr Wallcutt for the subscription. I wish they should be Mr Ellen may not be able to make out the 2 numbers you could not finish.

I have thought a good deal about the Liberty Bills and have consulted some persons as much interested in coming to a right decision as I am. The result I think is that if the Appeal could be forwarded pretty promptly or even a Postscript specially directed to each Contributor, the Bills could not be missed. In a general way they can send only to those who would do as the same if they were came. It was really a pain to me the last week to see so much ugly paper sheet coming from funds that can spare them so ill.

You are not to imagine for a moment that any trouble the distribution & disbursement occasion weighs with me in the least. It is not so. All I wish to see done or left undone is dictated with some view to the common best. I wish only Mrs Estlin & Miss Prasser and such Works to be again

About a fortnight ago I had a letter from Mr Estlin remarkably well written with the paralyzed right hand - It was full of kindness & sweetness - but was chiefly directed to entreat me not to abate my interest in the Advocate. Yesterday I had a newspaper directed by himself & the address little differed from his old handwriting.

J. M. McKeen told me that Miss Eitter has no hope of his health being re-established as it was before the attack. The Advocate is entirely upheld by Mr Ey's money. I have reluctantly remonstrated, but I am evidently a favorite with him & Miss Eitter & I am glad to help them as far as lies in my power.

No. 12 was but trifling, printer's stained which I was quite unable to lend a hand.
I did not see it tho after I received. I am sorry for the error, but am not surprised — for the materials were placed in the hands of Rev. Ed. Mathews, a baptist minister, a fine preacher of Mr Ey's but no great scholar.

I am not skilled in Indexing. The idea is a good one, but I fear my time would not allow of it — for I have but my partner and sub more than hitherto obliged to look after the stuff myself. Miss Eitter is the very one for an Index. I will send your letter to her and then ask send it back to me.

What you say about Brewster is just what I expected. He is the most thorough Ultramontanist I know of and a terrible sample of the genus.

Will you send me Giddings speeches & Manners if published and charge them to me

Ever yours truly

Richd D Webb
